

PD201 – Principles of Law for Social Justice

Midterm take-home exam 2019 (Maximum 40 points)

Dr. Lasse Schuldt

Please choose only one question:

1. Should it be a crime to publish or distribute false information (“fake news”) on the Internet? Please argue for and against criminalization and give your own opinion. Please also provide examples of “anti-fake news” criminal laws from different countries and comment on them.

or

2. Is affirmative action in contradiction with the principle of equality before the law? Please argue for and against this position and give your own opinion. Please also provide examples of affirmative action from different countries and comment on them.

Instructions:

- Word count: 1,000 words (minimum) – 1,600 words (maximum). You must indicate your word count.
- Please provide complete references to sources that you have used (Author name, work title, page or internet address, etc.). The use of resources such as books, articles, websites will be positively appreciated in the grading of your paper.
- Plagiarism results in 0 points.
- Submit your paper as a Word (.doc/.docx) document to lasse@schuldt.info
- Deadline for submissions: Saturday, 12 October 2019, 23:59.